PROFILE

Art Director in the late '80s in Miami. In 1993 moved to London, England and worked at top ten Advertising agency TBWA (Omnicom). In the late 90s I transitioned to 'Multimedia', web and UI design. I freelanced in the early 2000s, now full-time UI/UX Design & Front End Dev.

Guru-level with all Adobe Creative Suite, Sketch. Axure wireframing, though often straight to Bootstrap design in-browser. Love reducing complexity into simplicity, when designed well the user interface seems inevitable. I stick to the brief and as work rapidly. I enjoy work. For coding I use Sublime Text and the Command Line.

Last job: Civic Inc, UI/UX Design for Nashville Metro internal and external websites. Tackling complex government UI/UX challenges: Permit Systems, Land Management, Bridge Admin, Funds Management. Reducing many pages into simple navigable interfaces and presenting complex data in a easily digestible manner.

Prior work, JPay, unusual clientele: Inmates and their friends & famILY. I designed for a captive audience! It's challenging to make simple UX for low-literacy customers. I created, produced and admin'd all JPay projects' UI single-handed (some print work). So whether it's an entire website, wireframes, theming, interactive PDF, new app UI, skin job, a set of icons, a few more buttons I can deliver. I'm a coder groupie :) Motto: Don't let 'design' get in the way of communication.
